Don't Miss This!

Redemption is giving _____ chances when we see _____

How can I live this in my everyday, normal life?

Remember, peacemakers have the _____ and _____ to give away whatever we receive _____ Christ.

Ephesians 4:32
Be kind to one another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, as God in Christ has forgiven you.

How does this make me a better person and the world a better place?

Giving second chances _____ hope in the quicksand of _____.

What is God inviting you into today?

1. Stop living with regret and start walking in the redemption of God.
2. Give someone a second chance who has shown love and remorse.
3. Show your love and remorse to someone and ask them for a second chance.

Thought provoking questions:

1. Can you think of a time when you gave someone a second chance? What were the circumstances? Did that person take advantage of the opportunity?

2. When have you been given a second chance? How did you respond?

3. Why do you think the story of Peter's denial is so important to the story of Jesus?

4. Why do you think John wants his readers to know about Peter's breakfast with Jesus?

5. Why do you think Jesus focused on Peter's love for him and not his love for Peter?

6. What would the dangers be of giving a second chance when you don't see remorse and love?

7. What have you received from your relationship with God that you feel a sense of obligation and responsibility to give to others?

8. Can you think of a time where you used your feelings of regret in a positive way when given a second chance?
